

Drew Maloney Receives $1,055,000 From Taxpayer-funded Lobbying Contracts

Former Congressman Tom DeLay

Drew Maloney
former chief of staff
for former Rep. DeLay

Gas Technology
Institute (GTI)
$180,000
3/1/05

GTI is a non-profit research organization serving the natural gas industry. On 12/9/04, GTI entered into two contracts with the State of Texas for over $1 million dollars.

Texas Energy Center
(TEC)
$20,000
2/1/04

TEC is an energy consortium and was founded in 2003 with the help of Sugar Land Mayor David Wallace. On 2/1/04, the State of Texas agreed to contribute $3.6 million to TEC.

Office of State
Federal Relations
(OSFR)
$435,000
3/26/03

OSFR is a Texas state agency headed by the Governor, Lt. Governor, and Speaker of the House.

Advanced Materials
Research Center
$420,000
4/1/04

AMRC is a R&D center that collaborates with the State of Texas, Sematech, and Texas research universities. The State of Texas contributed $40 Million to AMRC on 3/29/04.